Leaflet title: Vestibular (Balance) Assessment

Last review: January 2023 Expiry Date: January 2025

Introduction

Your balance assessment can last up to 90 minutes. There are two main tests involved:

- VHIT (Video Head Impulse Test) During this test, the patient wears glasses-like video goggles and maintains his or her visual focus on a fixed target whilst the examiner makes some small but quick movements of the patient's head.
- 2. VEMP (Vestibular Evoked Myogenic Potentials) test During this test, the patient sits in a chair and turns his or her head to certain POSITIONS whilst listening to sounds presented through earphones. The neck muscle activities are recorded by electrodes placed on the head and neck.

During these tests:

- Sophisticated goggles which contain cameras are placed over the eyes.
- You will be required to observe a series of moving lights.
- You may be asked to hold your neck in certain positions

Your ENT Consultant may order one or both of these tests depending on your history. The results of the tests will be discussed with you by the Consultant at your next appointment.

Ask 3 Questions

Become more involved in decisions about your healthcare. You may be asked to make choices about your treatment. To begin with, try to make sure you get the answers to three key questions:

- 1. What are my options?
- 2. What are the positives and negatives of each option for me?
- 3. How do I get support to help me make a decision that is right for me?
