Introduction

When your baby is ready to be discharged, your family will be offered support at home from the Neonatal Outreach Team. We are a team of specialised nurses based on the Neonatal Unit at Wigan Hospital. We are here to support you and your baby settle in at home.

You may meet us during your baby's time in the Neonatal unit and we will talk with you about caring for your baby at home.

Our aim is to provide a seamless transition from hospital to home for babies who reside in the Wigan Borough.

We work closely with a wide range of professionals to provide optimum care for your baby in the home environment.

Questions & Answers

When do we visit?

We aim to visit within 48 hours of discharge from hospital. Further visits are arranged following discussion with the family.

How often do we visit?

The number of visits varies depending on the individual needs of each baby and family.

If your baby needs further medical investigations, is nursed in oxygen, tube fed or if there are any concerns about your baby's weight gain, we will continue for a longer period.

When will baby be discharged from our service?

This will be dependent on baby's general wellbeing, growth and development.

When baby is progressing well, we will transfer your baby's care to your health visitor.

What if you have a problem at home

Ask 3 Questions

Become more involved in decisions about your healthcare. You may be asked to make choices about your treatment. To begin with, try to make sure you get the answers to three key questions:

1. What are my options?
2. What are the positives and negatives of each option for me?
3. How do I get support to help me make a decision that is right for me?
