Introduction

You have been identified as being at risk of developing pressure sores, or you may already have a low grade pressure sore. In order to protect your skin as much as possible you have been provided with a static overlay mattress. You should read this leaflet together with the leaflet CM 264 Pressure Ulcers-Patient and Carer this can be found on the trust website: <https://www.wwl.nhs.uk/patient-information-leaflets>

How static overlay mattresses work

- There are various types and sizes of overlay mattresses (double/single).
- The overlay mattress should be placed on top of your own mattress.
- The mattress works by providing an even weight distribution that conforms to the shape of your body and protects its bony areas.
- The mattress is made up of a series of cut cells that work independently; it is designed to reduce the friction on your body.

Use of your mattress

- Use a bed sheet to cover the mattress.
- Avoid using additional covers and pads as this will reduce its effectiveness.

General advice

- It is important that you reposition yourself frequently as this relieves pressure.
- If you are unable to reposition yourself your carers must do it.

Care and cleaning instructions

If the mattress becomes soiled, wipe it down only with warm soapy water using a damp cloth. Dry with disposable paper towel or allow to air dry.

Check every day that there are no rips or other damage to the mattress. If there are any problems inform the 'Hospital at Home Nurse' who will arrange for a replacement.

Follow-up

The mattress is on loan. After 6 weeks or if your condition changes the Hospital at Home Team nurse will assess your need and either remove or re-issue the mattress. A referral to the District Nursing Service will be made if required.

Ask 3 Questions

Become more involved in decisions about your healthcare. You may be asked to make choices about your treatment. To begin with, try to make sure you get the answers to three key questions:

1. What are my options?
2. What are the pros and cons of each option for me?
3. How do I get support to help me make a decision that is right for me?

How We Use Your Information

For details on how we collect, use and store the information we hold about you, please take a look at our “how we use your information” leaflet which can be found on the Trust website: <https://www.wwl.nhs.uk>

This leaflet is also available in audio, large print, Braille and other languages upon request. For more information please ask in the department/ward.
