Introduction

Enabling you to have better control of your lymphoedema by

- Keeping active & moving more.
- Eating a healthy, balanced diet & managing your weight.
- Looking after your skin & reducing the risk of infection.
- Wearing your compression garments as advised once they have been prescribed and fitted

What is Stable Lymphoedema

It is a long term swelling in the tissues (present for more than 3 months), that develops when the lymphatic system is not working properly.

How do I keep my symptoms stable and under control?

- Look after your skin:
 1. Wash, dry, & moisturise daily.
 2. Check for changes in colour and for any injuries.

3. Try to prevent damage to your skin – sunburn, scratches, cuts, insect bites or stings.
 4. Avoid having injections and blood or blood pressure taken from the swollen area.
 5. Avoid very hot / cold baths or showers, and extreme changes in temperature.
- Carry out daily simple lymphatic drainage if you have been taught this.
 - Move more regularly / take daily exercise - avoid standing or sitting for long periods.
 - Eat a healthy, balanced diet.
 - Aim to maintain a healthy weight.
 - Drink plenty of fluids.
 - Try to sleep in a bed, not a chair.
 - Wear your compression garment as advised once it has been issued.
 - Avoid wearing tight clothing or jewellery.
 - Get replacement garments every 6 months, via your GP.

My daily routine ideas:

Use your phone or diary to remind you of your new, daily routine – this will help you keep your lymphoedema under good control.

What do I need to do if:

I notice worsening of my swelling, or new symptoms like numbness, tingling, cramps, or pain. My compression garment doesn't fit as well.

- Remove your garment.
- Contact your Lymphoedema Service or GP if your symptoms persist.

I develop any damage to my skin?

- Seek advice from your local Pharmacy, GP or Practice Nurse.
- Keep area clean and dry.
- Regularly monitor for signs of infection / cellulitis.

I notice fluid leaking through my skin?

- Seek advice from your GP or Practice Nurse.

I develop any redness to my skin?

- See next section on cellulitis

Cellulitis

Cellulitis is a sudden, non-contagious infection of the skin.

What does it look / feel like?

New onset of one or more of the following:

- Redness and / or rash
- Swelling
- Heat / increased temperature
- Tenderness / pain
- Fever / shivers / muscular aches and pains
- Nausea / vomiting

- Feeling generally unwell

What should I do?

- CONTACT YOUR GP IMMEDIATELY – you will need antibiotics
- AVOID wearing your compression garments during an acute attack – replace them as soon as the area is comfortable enough to tolerate them.
- STOP any exercise programmes and lymphatic drainage until it is completely resolved.
- Make sure your limb is elevated when you are not moving about.
- Drink plenty of fluids.
